

RESIDENT MAKES IMPORTANT CHANGE IN CABINET MONDAY

Mr. Work for Interior Job and New For Postmaster General

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—President Harding today effected the greatest change his cabinet has undergone since his administration began nearly two years ago, by designating Dr. Hubert H. Work for the postmaster general to be secretary of the interior, succeeding A. B. Fall of New Mexico, and senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, to head the post office department in succession to Dr. Work.

The nominations of Dr. Work and Senator New were sent to the senate and promptly confirmed, and of senator New immediately upon session it was said as that Dr. Work was always extended to the senate and that of Dr. Work in the day after it had been referred to commission in session and reported back, he two will take up their new duties next Monday when the resignation of Secretary Fall announced several weeks ago, becomes effective. Senator New returns from the senate with the Journal of the House of Representatives. The selections made by the president were not unexpected as they were forecast two weeks ago by the president upon receiving the resignation of Secretary Fall who after two years in the cabinet to take care of his private business interests, tendered a resignation. The interior portfolio, but the latter expressed desire to continue at his present post in order to work out certain parts of the program of helpfulness to business that he has instituted.

The president, it was understood then made up his mind to transfer Dr. Work to the interior department, because of his often expressed desire to have a western man head of this department, which deals so largely with western interests. Dr. Work furthermore is said to have impressed the president most favorably as an administrator.

SELECTS CLOSE FRIEND

Having thus decided to transfer Dr. Work the president turned toward selection of a man to head the post office department. Quite naturally he turned to Senator New, who was one of his closest friends in the senate and who since has generally been considered as close to the white house as anyone in the senate. Mr. Harding making up his original cabinet tendered Senator New a place but the senator preferred to serve out the remainder of his term in the senate.

The Indiana delegation in the house with the exception of Mr. Wood issued a statement declaring they not only favored but urged the appointment and the majority of the members of the Indiana state senate went on record similarly.

Senator New was in his office in the senate office building today when his nomination arrived at the senate and when it was confirmed he declined to make any formal statement merely saying he appreciated the honor and would accept the portfolio. Late in the day he went to the post office department for conference with Dr. Work. After taking the oath of office he plans to go to Indiana to spend a few days before activity taking charge of the department.

Dr. Work plans to assume his new duties immediately after induction into office.

THREE ALLEGED KU KLUX KLAN'S ARE NOMINATED

Named Out of a Slate of Five Said to Have Been Endorsed

(By The Associated Press)

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Feb. 27.—Three candidates out of the alleged slate of five which was said to have received the support of the Ku Klux Klan, were nominated in the municipal primary election today, according to complete unofficial returns from the 61 precincts in the city tabulated tonight.

The returns showed that the Rev. William R. Evans, August M. Eggemann and Ralph Cook, who were declared to have been endorsed by the Klan, were victorious in the contest for nomination as city commissioners. M. L. Harris, candidate for mayor and S. P. Fox, candidate for clerk, were candidates who were said to complete the "slate" were defeated.

Harris, Cook, Eggemann and Porter have denied they solicited the endorsement of the Klan. M. M. Stephens, present mayor under the commission form of government and William J. Veach were nominated to oppose each other for mayor in the election to be held in April. Harris was the third mayoralty candidate.

The St. Louis Post Dispatch published articles that the Klan endorsed the alleged "slate" and that klansmen declared they were going to make a "clean sweep" of the election. The articles stated the "slate" was pledged to support only klansmen and Protestants for office, to appoint only a Protestant chief for police and not to make any appointments before submitting them to a Klan committee.

The alleged Klan issue became intense when Chief of Police Mulconery announced that Benjamin O. Morrow, a salesman, admitted under oath that he was "precinct committeeman" for the Klan, being paid $10 a day and that the Klan had "committees" in every precinct of the city.

Morrow, with two other men are at liberty after having been arrested last Saturday night on charges of distributing anonymous political circulars which urged the defeat of 18 candidates said to be Catholics or have Catholic support.

Police guarded Morrow today following an alleged affidavit he made that his life had been threatened by an organizer for the Klan for revealing Klan activities.

Approximately 15,000 votes said to be the largest number ever cast in a local primary were polled the registration being 21,000. Although the election attracted much interest it passed quietly with no disturbances being reported.

FURTHER EVIDENCE OF IMPROVEMENT IN THE COPPER INDUSTRY

Anaconda Copper Mining Company Declares Dividend

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Further evidence of improvement in the copper industry was offered today when directors of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company declared a dividend of 75 cents per share, this being the first dividend paid by the corporation since November 22, 1920, when a dividend of $1 a share was declared.

While no intimation was given by the company as to whether this rate would be continued, the belief that the directors' action meant the stock had again been put on a regular dividend basis was reflected in transactions in the stock which moved to 5 1/2, a new high price for the year. Anaconda's action follows that of the Kennecott and Mather Lode companies which recently resumed dividends after a lapse.

The Standard Oil company of Kentucky also declared an initial quarterly dividend of $1 on the new stock representing an increase of 33 1/3 per cent over the rate paid prior to the 66-2-3 stock dividend. The $1 quarterly dividend is equivalent to an annual rate of $3.33 a share on the common stock.

TAX SYSTEMS ARE ATTACKED DURING TEACHERS MEETING

State Should Tax All People to Remedy the Matter

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 27.—Tax systems were attacked today by several speakers during general sessions of the department superintendents of the National Education association convention in discussions on progress in solving school financial problems with a three-speech symposium on budget making and spending.

Pointing out that wealthier communities spend the larger amount per pupil whereas it often happens that the poorer communities have the highest tax rate, Dr. George D. Strayer of Calumet University, came to this conclusion:

"If opportunity and burden are to be equalized the state must levy a tax upon property on incomes of all the people or in some other manner secure revenues by a system of taxation which bears with equal weight upon all."

Professor Strayer also advocated giving boards of education complete control of finances of the school system contending that it would bring a larger tax rate, larger percentage of the total municipal rate devoted to schools and larger expenditure per pupil in average daily attendance.

The National Council of Education, an allied organization, held its opening meeting this afternoon, President J. W. Gwynn, New Orleans, presiding.

John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, spoke on "A Year's Progress in Education."

He said that in spite of widespread insistence in all parts of the country upon a policy of relieving the burden of taxation and retrenchment of expenditures for public matters, schools last year enjoyed a year of surprising progress with general and marked evidences of progress.

Payson Smith, state superintendent of education, Massachusetts; Milton C. Potter, superintendent of Milwaukee schools; H. B. Wilson, superintendent of schools, Berkeley, California; and Herbert S. West, superintendent at Rochester, N. Y., were nominated at the morning session for the presidency of the department of superintendence. The result of the voting will be announced tomorrow night.

"Practice teaching" was discussed by the city teacher-training setion and facts and future of the county superintendency by the department of rural education. At the latter meeting a prolonged discussion arose over the method of selection of county superintendents but no decision was reached. A joint session of the department of superintendence with three allied departments—elementary school principals, secondary school principals and rural education, was held tonight.

Dr Wolfe Tells More About An Old Timer

(By The Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 27.—The fossilized human skull, supposed to be of the tertiary period, was found by Dr. J. G. Wolfe of La Plata museum during his explorations in Patagonia, was found near Paso Ibanez, in the territory of Santa Cruz, southern Patagonia, about 20 miles from the Atlantic coast, according to a statement made today by Dr. Wolfe to The Associated Press.

The skull was picked up there by a white settler, who since has moved westward to the Andean region and who now has it in his possession. On learning that the fossil had been found, Dr. Wolfe trailed the settler across the almost treeless plains of the Pampas region which runs from the Andes to the Atlantic, and found him in his new home.

"I saw and examined the skull," said Dr. Wolfe today. "I am keeping the name and the place where this man lives in reserve until arrangements have been made by an authoritative commission to examine the fossil and investigate the circumstances of it. Should the identity of the settler become known, I fear the relic might fall into uncertain hands, that some persons might purchase it and hold it for a high price."

"The settler now has some realization of its value, but I am sure he would be content to part with it for a reasonable sum offered by the museum."

Dr. Wolfe is waiting for the authorities of La Plata museum to take some action with regard to sending a mission southward to obtain the skull and verify his data. Their decision is not expected until the return of Director Louis M. Torres, who is on an excavation expedition, but who is expected to arrive in a few days.

Dr. Wolfe also told The Associated Press that he had heard among the settlers of another fossilized human skull having been found when a well was being dug. He intends to search for this skull on his return to Patagonia.

"Yes," Dr. Wolfe observed, "it does seem almost beyond belief that this skull I have seen could be a human relic of the tertiary period but it is a fact that the skull is a fossilization of the same stone abounding in this part of Patagonia and which geologists describe as a tertiary formation. I am not a geological authority although I have had experience in geology. I have examined the geological formation where the skull was and I believe it tertiary. It is the same region where Professor Elmer S. Riggs, associate curator of paleontology of the Field museum of natural history of Chicago, is searching for animal fossils of the Miocene period, which is one of the divisions of the tertiary period."

"Theory of animal fossils of the tertiary age have been found in Patagonia; why, then, not one of the human race?" "I saw Prof. Riggs of the Rio Gallegos, in southern Patagonia, and told him I had made what I believed to be a most important anthropological discovery. But I did not tell him what it was, as I believed my first duty was to make known the fact to La Plata museum, which I represent."

In describing the skull again Dr. Wolfe said it was highly polished, this having been effected by the sands blowing upon it as it lay on the surface of the ground where it was found.

"It looks as if it had been varnished," Dr. Wolfe added.

TURK ASSEMBLY BEGINS DISCUSSIONS

(By The Associated Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 27.—The Grand National assembly in Ankara this afternoon began discussing the draft of the reply of the cabinet to the Lausanne peace treaty. It is expected the debate will last several days.

The press of Constantinople continues to insist that the national assembly will accept nothing which tends to violate the national pact.

The withdrawal today from Smyrna of the heavy foreign warships leaving only the light station vessels there, is regarded as a reassuring feature of the situation. The withdrawal was made under an agreement reached by the Turks and the Allies.

FARM CREDITS BILL IS SIDETRACKED FOR BANK TAX MEASURE

Republican Managers Say Will Call It Up Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Farm credits was side tracked today in the house for a conference report on the national bank tax bill, but republican managers gave assurance that it would be called up tomorrow, and if possible pressed to a vote at a single session.

The bank tax matter led to a five hours fight, and a further tightening of the agreement, even should the rural credits measure be disposed of by tomorrow night, it is certain that a considerable part of the agreement, which the rural commission has voted to give privileged status on the floor will die with congress at noon Sunday.

The decision as to what matters are to be acted upon by the house after tomorrow rests largely with the leaders, but the prospect is that a number of the measures which the house will pass will fall in the senate.

Measures now virtually conceded to be dead include the bills for government purchase of the Cape Cod canal and for the establishment of a women's industrial home at Mount Weather, Virginia, and an industrial reformatory at Camp Grant, Illinois.

The Norris resolution proposing to advance the time of inauguration of president and the convening of the first regular sessions of newly elected congresses is conceded to have only a very slight chance.

Present plans of the republican managers are to put thru the post office omnibus bill and a number of measures from the military commission.

WIRELESS TELEPHONY MAKES DEAF TO HEAR

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Wireless telephony has achieved another wonder—made the deaf hear.

Inspired by the report that a 77 year old man, deaf for 30 years, had listened successfully at a friend's home, scientists have conducted a series of experiments at the Marconi house where Harry Shwer, 13, deaf from birth, heard music and the human voice for the first time in his life. The boy was taken before a loud speaking device over which a fox-trot was transmitted. He quickly caught the beat and it patted his foot rhythmically. Then a receiver was placed to his ear and he heard a voice. It was found he could hear thru one ear but not the other. Two of his companions from a deaf institution were tested. One heard the fox-trot and the other could hear nothing.

Dr. MacLeod Yearsley, famous aural surgeon, said the fact that Shwer heard thru one ear but could not hear thru the other proved that he possessed some remnant of ability to catch sounds which the ordinary tuning fork experiments would not have revealed.

"The most hopeful line of discovery," said Dr. Yearsley, "is that of the possibility of re-educating the deaf to hear by means of wireless. The cases of all deaf persons, however, are individual."

ARTHUR C. LUEDER NAMED FOR MAYOR BY REPUBLICANS

Runs Far Ahead of Second Man on the Ticket

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Arthur C. Lueder for the Republican nomination for mayor to succeed William Hale Thompson defeated three opponents in today's primary election, receiving nearly twice as many votes as his nearest opponent Edward R. Litzinger, who received the support of many Thompson adherents. Lueder's opponent in the election in April will be Judge William E. Dever unopposed Democrat.

Judge Bernard P. Barasa, who ran on a platform of light wines and beer, finished fourth on the Republican mayoralty ticket, running behind Arthur M. Millard in the four cornered race.

In the second congressional district Morton D. Hull defeated Sidney Lyon for the Republican nomination for congress to succeed the late James R. Mann. The Democratic nomination went to Barrett O'Hara former lieutenant governor of Illinois who defeated Joseph Frank.

Complete returns in the congressional race placed Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, who was elected last year as congresswoman at large to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her father, second to Hull.

The final count stood as follows: Morton D. Hull 17,842 Winifred Mason Huck 12,744 George W. Bolling 9,646 Sidney Lyon 7,267 W. Peak Owens 922 Edward G. O'Brien 577

On the Democratic ticket Barrett O'Hara polled 10,333 votes and Joseph Frank 4,248.

Virtually complete returns from the Republican mayoralty contest gave: Lueder 129,586 Litzinger 75,105 Millard 51,155 Barasa 47,513

This was the only contest for major municipal office in the primary. Lueder's two running mates William H. Graden for City Clerk and John V. Healy for City Treasurer, had no opposition. On the Democratic side there was only one ticket—Dever for mayor, Al F. Gorman for City Clerk and John A. Cervanka for City Treasurer.

FOOTBALL STARS HELD FOR ASSAULT

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 27.—Claire Frey, "Pup" McWhorter and J. E. Fincher, Georgia Technical football stars, were placed under $250 peace bonds in municipal court today after Carl Davis had told the court how the three and Henry Lyons, a young club man, had taken him from his apartment early Saturday, thrashed him and compelled him to apologize to Miss Mildred Bawell, prominent society girl, for an alleged insult.

Davis told the court that he entertains fear of further bodily injury.

Lyons is said to be out of the city on a hunting trip. Miss Bawell testified that a disagreement had arisen between Davis and herself last spring when a North Carolina girl who was visiting her brother, an engagement with Davis, Friday night last, when she met Davis on a ballroom floor. She claims that he directed an epithet at her.

Her mother testified that Davis had telephoned and offered an apology before he was brought to her home by the four men.

Davis previously had denied having made the remark.

The four men are now out on bonds of $200 each for their appearance in court Friday on charges of assault and kidnapping.

RAIL EXECUTIVES CRITICIZE PLANS OF CONSOLIDATION

Are Not in Sympathy with Tentative Plans for Rail Merger

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Tentative plans of the interstate commerce commission for consolidating railroads in the southwest proved the target of considerable criticism today from officials of carriers involved who testified at the commission's hearings. R. F. Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific declared that line needed a merger with routes to the Pacific coast and W. H. Lyford, Vice president of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois with which the commerce commission has proposed to group the Missouri Pacific, said his road should be thrown into association with some eastern system, such as the Pennsylvania or New York central.

Daniel Upthegrove, president of the St. Louis Southwestern condemned the tentative grouping of his road with the Missouri Pacific, Missouri Kansas and Texas, St. Louis San Francisco and other lines as the commission has proposed, he favored a change in the tentative plan to place his road in the group which includes the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific or with the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe.

Mr. Bush approved the scheme of the commission to include the Chicago and Eastern Illinois with the Missouri Pacific but contended that the policy of his road in the past had been to build traffic in conjunction with the Denver and Rio Grande Western and the Western Pacific, those three lines have been "firmly cemented," he argued, and if the commission brings about their unification a long and broad route between the Pacific coast and the Mississippi Valley will be kept open.

If this is not done, Mr. Bush added, large and expansion terminals which the Missouri Pacific has kept in operation at St. Louis and Kansas City to handle western traffic will be curtailed in their usefulness and the industrial of the cities named will be lessened.

LORD ROBERT CECIL IS NOT GOING TO ENTHUSE TOO MUCH

Regards Attitude of United States, However, as "Pleasing"

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The desire expressed by President Harding and Secretary Hughes for the participation by the United States in permanent court of International Justice is characterized by Lord Robert Cecil recognized as one of the leading British experts in the League of Nations affairs as particularly pleasing, but has not caused him to jump at the conclusion that the United States is about ready to take out full membership in the league and dispatch delegates to Geneva.

"The only constructive comment I can make," said Lord Robert in a statement to The Associated Press today, "is that I see no reason why Mr. Hughes' reservations should not be accepted."

"Naturally, I know the temper of the league assembly and in the assembly which the United States is about ready to take out full membership in the permanent court of International Justice is characterized by Lord Robert Cecil recognized as one of the leading British experts in the League of Nations affairs as particularly pleasing, but has not caused him to jump at the conclusion that the United States is about ready to take out full membership in the league and dispatch delegates to Geneva.

KILLING SHIPPING MEASURE HARDER THAN PASSING IT

Agreement Reported in Senate for Final Vote Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Agreement was reported today in the senate to vote tomorrow on final disposition of the administration shipping bill which has been regarded as lost even by its supporters since last Friday.

Before the agreement was reached, after another day of debate raging about the measure, it had begun to appear that the task of finally killing it had become almost as difficult as that of passing it. Much of the debate today had as its theme the filibuster of last week against the measure and the means of disposing of it.

The agreement, which provides for a vote at 1 o'clock tomorrow on the pending motion by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, to send the ship bill back to the commerce commission, was proposed by Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, who as chairman of the committee, has had charge of the agreement. It is expected that the move to recommit the bill will be defeated and that the end of the agreement will be brought about thru displacement in favor of some other measure.

Regardless of the method used by the senate in killing the measure it will not be submitted again by the administration, it was said today at the white house. The president was described as greatly disappointed that the agreement should be defeated when it was apparent a majority of the senate favored it but to have no feeling of resentment.

The administration, it was added by the white house spokesman, is resolved to do the best thing and everything possible without the aid of congress in assisting private owners to

It is interesting to note that a piece of property on one of the streets included in the 1923 paving program changed hands yesterday. The proposed improvement evidently made a market for the property owner who wanted to sell.

At any rate we should be thankful to the men who have the sugar market under control that they chose this season of the year for making their rapid advancements. The increase would be much costly for the average householder in the early summer months.

In Germany it is said that living cost has doubled since January and that it is 57 times greater than was true a year ago. However, these figures are not as appalling as first appears for the measure of changes is made in marks and presumably the pay of workers has been increased in a somewhat proportionate way. At any rate, the condition from a money standpoint over there is both ludicrous and pitiable.

One national organization has for its slogan the elimination of one disease in the next 25 years. Such rapid strides have been taken in the work of prevention that this goal does not sound as unattainable as would have been the case a few years ago. Modern methods have taught that it is a much more feasible thing to prevent diseases than it is to cure it.

But after all the national organizations for the promotion of health have done their work, there will no doubt still be plenty of disease for the physicians and surgeons.

Secretary Wallace insists that the merger of Armour and Morris interests will not be for the public welfare and that such a union is contrary to law. Evidently the men behind the great packing industries believe that Mr. Wallace is in error in his interpretation, for notwithstanding the warning the secretary gave some weeks ago the preparations for the combination have moved steadily forward.

As has been said before, it does not always follow that a combination is in restraint of trade or contrary to the interests of the people. Those things remain to be proven with reference to any merger.

If anyone doubted the fact that the public school is more and more coming to be the center of activities they would have found the evidence against them last night. In the High school auditorium a great audience was present for the Elks concert. Just about 100 feet north of this assembly room was a still greater audience gathered in the gym of the Junior High for a basketball contest.

There is something doing almost every night in one of the public school buildings and the development is in the right direction.

President Harding evidently thinks well of Dr. Work. The President promptly advanced him from the position of assistant postmaster general to the head of the department when Will Hays resigned. Now Dr. Work steps up to a still higher place in the cabinet and has become secretary of the interior.

Those who know Dr. Work's record in both public and private life declare that the President is fully justified in the confidence placed in this man.

THE FRENCH AND THE RUHR.

There have been many local critics of the French for their action of marching into the Ruhr district with the disapproval of England and without the approval of the U. S. However, Mr. Duncan-Clark in his recent address at the Congregational church here, gave people some new light on this subject.

The figures were given to show that during the years since the Armistice that Germany has paid only a very small per cent of the reparations fund agreed upon and that the payment is insignificant by comparison with the amount of money expended by the French in the work of making good the damage done by Germany during the war.

Mr. Clark pictured in a graphic if not reassuring way the dangers that beset France from Russian sources, and thru other facts brought forward to consider, impressed his auditors with the thought that France has taken this action because there was nothing else to do unless she was willing to let Germany default.

After hearing the argument the audience was led to wonder if the mistake of France had not been in not marching upon the Ruhr district long ago.

THE NEXT FRONTIER

"It is gratifying to learn thru recent news dispatches that railroad lines already constructed cover 70 per cent of the distance between New York City and Buenos Aires" says the Republican Publicity Association. "These roads, when united in one long line of steel, will mean much in the development of South America and in the establishment of closer commercial relations between the United States and the republics of the Southern Hemisphere. From the standpoint of both sentiment and trade, the final completion of a continuous line is to be desired."

"The resources of South America, particularly in rubber, coffee, tropical fruits, hard woods and probably minerals, are such as to make close commercial relations between North and South America highly desirable and mutually profitable. We can furnish the capital, the machinery, the managerial skill and the experience needed to develop their manufacturing industries, for which there is an abundance of water power. Many of their raw materials necessary for our use, cannot be produced here. Even without any intercontinental rail connections we have built up and shall continue to increase trade relations with South America. With an unbroken railroad system extending from the southern portions of South America to the northern limits of settlement in Canada, there would be provided that quicker means of both passenger and freight communication which would increase the material wealth and the comfort of all the people of the Western Hemisphere.

"South America Presents the next frontier, as Africa will present the last frontier."

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

A True Friend

By Berton Braley

HE lets me buy him dinner,
And never buys for me,
My purse grows flatter, thinner,
When in his company,
My money he annexes,
By various hooks and crooks,
But, though my soul he vexes,
He never borrows books!

HIS humor makes me weary,
His talk is most insane,
His tales are old and dreary,
And trying to the brain;
No matter how I view him,
I do not like his looks,
But still I cotton to him—
He never borrows books!

WHAT though he's far from moral,
With faults I can't defend,
I shall not ever quarrel
With such a precious friend,
And should he from a cell come,
A criminal, gadzooks,
I still should bid him welcome—
He never borrows books!

WHY HE RAN

Were you ever out in a storm that struck terror to your heart? Or do thunder and lightning make you want to hide in a dark clothes closet? At such moments, we shed our human vanities and cringe before the suddenly revealed powers of nature. Like the man in the above pen-picture by Artist Satterfield.

The man is drawn from life. He tells this story: "I am a building contractor and had just finished going over the plans for a skyscraper. Quite pleased with myself, and conceited about my power in the world, I went out to stroll along the big lake where I was spending a brief vacation. I thought of giant buildings, of huge dams, of powerful electric current harnessed by man, and on the Panama Canal by which a continent is split and two oceans joined.

BURLINGTON PLANS FOR A SHORT LINE

The Burlington railroad company is planning to build a short route from Frederick to Vermont, according to a statement by Divisional Superintendent George Griggs of Beardstown. The original route surveyed for the cut-off has been abandoned, on account of the immense expense of building bridges and digging tunnels, as the route lay thru very broken country.

Now, however, a new survey has been made over a route requiring only a fifteen per cent grade. The expense will be much less and the mileage will be shortened considerably. The superintendent believes that plans will be completed so that the actual construction of the new stretch of track can soon begin.

PEABODY MAY BUY PART OF C. P. ROAD

 WITH THE SICK *****

The probable purchase of considerable mileage of the defunct C. P. & St. L. railway by the Peabody interests of Chicago is a current press rumor. It is understood that Stuyvesant Peabody, the young financial genius who has taken over the interests of his father, the multi-millionaire, was taken over the road in a private train from Waverly to Peoria and made a personal inspection of the properties.

Whether the plan of Mr. Peabody comprehends the purchase of the Jacksonville - Havana branch of the C. P. is not known; neither can it be ascertained what Peabody intends to do with the road if he buys it.

PRATT BROTHERS
GET INTO TROUBLECHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The Brothers Pratt whose interchangeable names introduced baseball to the spectacle of one body being in two places at the same time were reinstated in organized baseball today by Commissioner Landis, contingent upon their repaying to the two clubs "the expenses occasioned by their misconduct."The Pratt family baseball league started in 1920 when Francis B. Pratt was drafted by the Greenville S. C. baseball association from Carrollton in the Georgia State League. Francis B., tho, had the instincts of a born "joiner" and not satisfied with one contract joined the Chicago White Sox too. The extra contract was no burden on the Pratt family for W. Luther, brother of Francis B., plays baseball so Francis B., sent W. Luther down to Greenville, where he placed himself off on the Carrollton as Francis. When Francis began playing on two teams at one time an investigation started with the result that both landed on the baseball czar's ineligible list.BIG JESS MAY with Jack Dempsey, plans to establish a training camp at Excelsor Springs, Mo., to condition himself for his contest with Floyd Johnson, the Iowa heavy

May 12.The former champion said here tonight that he wanted to do as much outdoor training as possible and that climbing the hills around Excelsor Springs would help to get him into shape. He intends to spend at least six weeks in camp before moving on to New York to finish training.Willard spent an hour and a half in a gymnasium this afternoon. He boxed four rounds besides going thru other exercises.
The big Kansan said he weighed about 258 pounds and that he had reduced about 12 pounds in 20 days and intended to get to about 245 for his match with the young Iowan.DECLINES TO GIVE

tion of Mrs. Mallory's arrival on

DOKAYS DEFEATED
NEW BERLIN 24-10Game Was Fast and A Corker
During First Quarter With the Score at 2 All—Dokays Then Speed Up and Outplay Visitors.Playing a great brand of basketball, both offensively and defensively, the Dokays defeated the New Berlin team in David Prince Gymnasium Tuesday evening by a score of 24 to 10.For the first ten minutes of play fans never saw two teams more evenly matched. The guarding was close and the team work good on the part of both squads.
Each team was able to make one field goal in the first quarter.As the second quarter began the Dokays started to speed up and at the half led by a score of 10 to 4. This speed continued in the second half when Kennedy did some great shooting. He was ably seconded by Jones and Covey with the result that the Dokays soon gained a comfortable lead and held it thruout.The New Berlin five showed some speed at the beginning of the third quarter and got a couple of baskets and two free throws.
However, it was only a flash in the pan and the Dokays soon stopped the spurt and took command of the situation.It was difficult to pick a star on the Dokays team.
Every man seemed to be in the right place at the right time and so thoroly did they keep every man on the New Berlin five covered, it was difficult for them to get an easy shot. The work of Struck, Covey and Reynolds was especially good on the defense.New Berlin also played a good game on defense but not so good as the Dokays. Beers and E.
Kumle did all of the scoring for the visitors. The score:

ILLINOIS TO PAY

Season—Last Game For Mellon and Hiatt—Eureka is Opponent.Tonight at 7:45 in the David Prince gymnasium, Illinois College meets Eureka in the last College basketball game of the season. In the latter part of January, Illinois played Eureka at Eureka and lost by the score of 25 to 17. The Illinois boys are determined to reverse the tables tonight.Captain Mellon and Hiatt will make their last appearance in basketball togs. Naturally they, in common with the other members of the team, wish to end their basketball careers with a victory.Dale will probably start the game at forward with Hiatt. He played an improved game in the Lombard contest and seems to have regained somewhat his eye for the basket.Captain Mellon will be the pivot man and the brunt of the defensive play will fall on Haskins, Jack Roberts, Underwood and Butler; with the first two named having an edge on the other pair.Eureka also has two men who are playing their last season of basket ball. Kirby is a clever forward who has a wicked eye for the basket and if he gets going right he always makes lots of trouble for the opposing team.
Dennis, the lanky boy who played center for the Eureka team last season, is operating at floor guard this year and drops in long shots from the center of the floor.Whittier, the husky Girard boy who tears the line up from the fullback position in football, is a good basket ball player. At Eureka he played forward against Illinois but he is better at guard than at forward. He is sure to be in the lineup tonight.Millard, former Wesleyan player, now sports editor for the Decatur Review, will officiate.CHANDLERVILLE WOMAN

COMMUNITY SPIRITWhite Hall, Feb. 27.—White Hall affords an example of community progress that is a universal theme among the citizens, and the spirit is finding a good reception beyond the confines of the home surroundings. This is a time when the smaller communities are in position to benefit by the trend of industry to get out of the more populous centers. To best meet the opportunity that now faces White Hall to a larger degree than before in its history, organization of a permanent and substantial character is being considered to replace the association that has been in a semi-casual state for a few years.
The consideration is taking on the chamber of commerce idea and investigation is proceeding along this line in advance of any definite move to bring about an organization.Another point in the advancement of general community affairs is the growing disposition to invest in stock of the local building and loan associations with the opening of the new

Meeting—Other News from Chapin Vicinity.

Chapin Feb. 27.—The Chapin Women's club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. E. Burnham. There were sixteen members present and in answer to roll call current events were discussed in a very interesting way. After the business session Mrs. Ada Funk read an excellent paper on Lincoln and Illinois. Mrs. E. F. Joy presented a copy of the Jacksonville Journal of April 20, 1865, containing an account of the assassination of President Lincoln which was viewed with much interest. A group of songs, "Smilin' Through" by Arthur Penn and "A Memory" by Rudolph Ganz was sung by Miss Amy Onken. During the social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomason visited Sunday in Jacksonville with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glen and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Post.

ELKS ENJOY POST CONCERT DANCE

A roaring good time was had by the Elks and their guests at a dance which followed the choral concert. Large orchestra furnished the music. A sensation was furnished the dancers when Arnold Lovejoy, concert master of the earlier part of the evening, took up the traps and drummed for the longest outburst of jazz of the evening, the dancers demanding encore after encore. Refreshments were served during the evening in the dining room. The success of the concert pervaded the spirit of the later evening, and made the dance one of the most spirited good times of the year.

The writer went on to state that the concert will be between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock, and he thought perhaps some one in Chapin or vicinity would be able to hear the music.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poison

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporarily at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN, and to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" that does not have to learn to like it, it is as a cereal or sprinkle on or with hot or cold cereals. Or, with hot cereals, allowing two to three spoonfuls for each person. Kellogg's Bran makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Read on package.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

ELKS CHORUS CONCERT PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

Audience at High School Auditorium Gave Approval to Delightful Program—Mr. Lovejoy a Capable Conductor.

Last evening in the High School Auditorium there was given a concert of more than ordinary interest. A program of much variety and charm was presented by the Elks Chorus, under Mr. Arnold Lovejoy's direction, assisted by Miss Fern Patton, soprano, and local soloists. This chorus organization, formed only a few months ago, and made up almost entirely of amateurs in voice work, has aroused much interest and curiosity among Jacksonville's music lovers, who have heard reports of the excellence of its work in rehearsal and it is scarcely a matter of surprise that a large audience should be attracted to their first public concert.

The lack of anything in the nature of a community chorus has long been felt here and, as far as the writer knows, this is the first organization of the kind to be formed among the members of any lodge or society. The presence in Jacksonville of a choral conductor as Mr. Lovejoy gave inspiration and opportunity to many who felt that the time was ripe for making up a men's vocal club which could uphold high standards of ensemble singing, and the Elks Chorus has worked with enthusiasm and faithfulness on the numbers presented last evening, producing results gratifying to their friends and convincing the most skeptical that such an organization is a very great addition to our civic life. The audience gathered in the High School Auditorium left no doubt in the minds of the performers that they were filling a long-felt want.

In the opening number a short, but well-conceived composition by Mr. Arthur Westbrook, who acted as bass soloist at the Girls' Glee Club Concert in January, the Chorus aroused immediate interest by their vigor and precision of attack, while in the later numbers proof was given of their command of dynamics and their astonishingly beautiful pianissimos. They followed with accuracy and intelligence the forceful yet easy beat of their conductor, whose variety of interpretative effects was surprisingly great.

Mr. Lovejoy has a true instinct for dramatics. This was evident not only in the opening selections, but more particularly later, in the Negro songs and the Quartets, where his long experience in theatrical work stood him in good stead. Throughout the evening there was revealed a delicacy of nuance astonishing in a body of heavy and, for the most part, untrained voices, and it became apparent that such a thing as dragging of tempo or slipshodness of interpretation were impossible under the electric baton of Mr. Lovejoy.

In Miss Patton, the soloist of the evening, musical Jacksonville found a new friend. In the first place, her stage presence is most pleasing—her appearance unusually attractive and her manner appealing in its naturalness and amiability. Her voice, which is of a rich mezzo-soprano quality, has the soprano range, and is used artistically, with natural, unforced production and true musical intelligence. There is a delightful evenness in all registers and a command of breath which makes for relaxation and enjoyment in the listener. It would be difficult to say which of her numbers was best suited to her voice and interpretative ability, but the last two of her second group were particularly pleasing to the audience.

The Elks Quartet, composed of Messrs. Wilder, Drummond, Wood and Cornick, did some excellent work, their singing receiving added interest in the appropriate action introduced by their conductor, and the selection from Katinka in which Miss Patton assisted them was a charming bit of comic opera.

In the musical reading, "Darius Deever," presented in a form originated by Mr. Lovejoy, Mr. Richard Reynolds revealed himself as the possessor of a good declaiming voice, and a real dramatic talent. There was a genuine thrill in the delivery, by Mr. Reynolds and the chorus, of the familiar Damosch setting of the new-classic poem of Kipling.

In her second group of songs Miss Patton, already assured of her welcome by the audience, brought to notice new beauties of tone color, inspiring in her hearers an enjoyment equal to her own apparent delight in musical expression. After the final number she responded graciously to the insistent applause with an exquisitely sung Paganini song. It may be said that the final group of choral selections showed the best work of the evening, finding its climax in the splendid Final Scene from Faust, in which Miss Patton's superb soprano stood out well against the background of rugged masculine tone produced by the Chorus.

One of the most important participants in the evening's program was the accompanist, Mr. Wesner, whose work at the piano deserves high commendation. He is accurate, reliable and sympathetic, and his contribution to the success of the concert was indispensable.

Some novel lighting effects, introduced at various unexpected moments, added picturesqueness to the already artistically-set stage, and a cleverly arranged encore was given by the Quartet after its second offering. A few unlooked-for bits of comedy made

Strawn Talks About Dort

There's economy, also satisfaction, in giving your car the once-over at regular intervals, and once a week is not too often.

While engineering advances and sturdy construction have developed the modern motor car to a point where it will permit of considerable neglect, there is a limit to all things and it will prove costly to cross the dead line on the question of service.

The motorist should consider his car an investment and it is a matter of good business to take care of it the same as he does his other possessions. When an automobile is allowed to run-down-at-the-wheel, the owner finds his repair bills mounting in an alarming manner.

To the average motorist some of the complicated motor cars present an unpleasant task when any service work needs to be done, but the Dort is different. Accessibility of parts was one of the first principles built into the Dort Four and it has been more prominently continued in the new Dort Six so that the owner has more fun than hard work in keeping his Dort fit and ready.

Another feature that every motorist should consider in servicing his car is that the use of so-called "pirate-parts" shortens the life of a car and causes inconvenience and worry. Dort parts are manufactured for all models of Dort cars and under no circumstances should any other parts be used.

Quite a saving can be made and much satisfaction gained from regular inspection on the part of owner and the use of legitimate parts. There is no other short cut to motorist pleasure, and that is what every owner is entitled to, whether his car is used for business or pleasure.

Queen Incubators Built to Hatch Without Trouble

QUEEN Incubators are famous for their large hatches of strong, healthy chicks that grow.

The Queen is accurately regulated, taking care of a temperature variation of 70 degrees without danger. It is built of genuine Redwood—very scarce in these days of imitation and substitution. Redwood does not absorb the odor from hatching eggs. Cheaper woods and paste-board lining in iron and tin machines retain the odors to weaken the hatching chicks.

The Queen has double walls of California Redwood, with insulation between. The Queen hot water system prevents the eggs from drying out and provides ample moisture for the hatching chick. The Queen will come nearer to running itself without any more than ordinary attention than any other incubator made.

Queen Brooders

The Queen Colony Brooder is a new and improved design of brooder stove.

As will be seen from the illustration, the check and draft lids are cast together and operated together. Thus, when the fire is too hot, the water expands and closes the draft and opens the check, both at the same time. When it is too cool, the water contracts and closes the check and opens the draft. This keeps an even heat all the time, night and day, in cold weather or warm, and does it automatically. You don't have to pay any attention to it whatsoever. Just set the regulator for the proper temperature at the start of the season—it will do the rest.

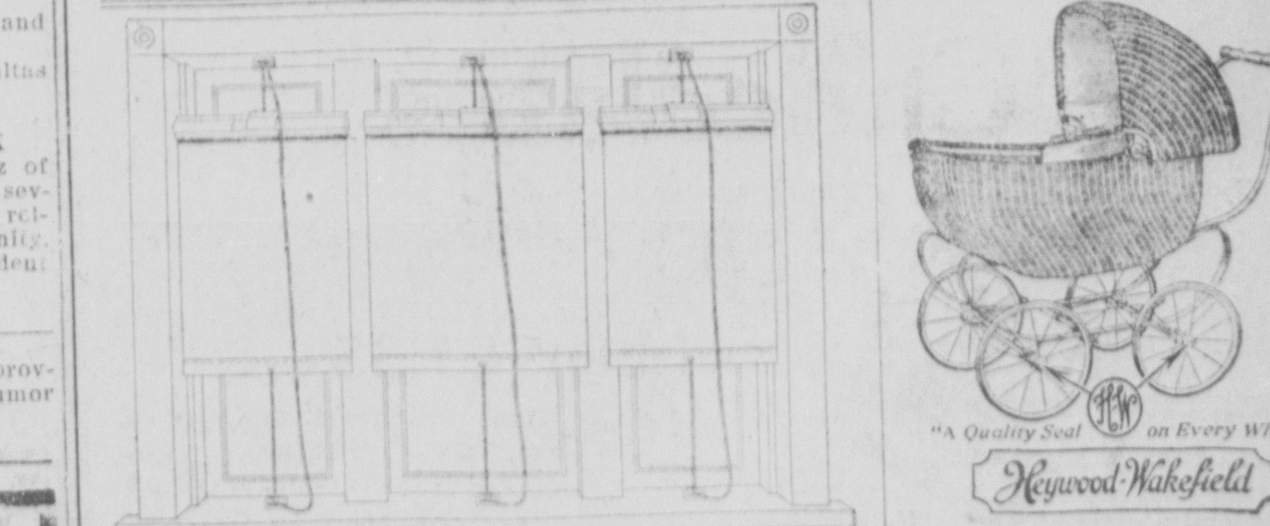

The Queen stove burns any kind of fuel with totally satisfactory results.

JAMES DINWIDDIE IS CALLED BY DEATH

Life Long Resident of County Passed Away Tuesday Night at Home West of Litchberry—Funeral to Be Held Thursday.

Death came at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening to James Dinwiddie at his home several miles west of Litchberry. Mr. Dinwiddie who celebrated his nineteenth birthday Feb. 16 of this year, had been ill for the past two weeks. He suffered an attack of pneumonia two weeks ago and for a time his condition was regarded as serious. However, he grew somewhat better and it was not until Monday evening that he gave indications that the end was near.

Mr. Dinwiddie was born at the farm home where his death occurred, and his entire life of ninety years was spent at the one homestead. He was the oldest resident of Litchberry precinct and one of the oldest residents of the county.

The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dinwiddie, pioneer residents of Morgan county. His marriage to Miss Anna Richardson of Newton, Ohio, was solemnized on January 5, 1865. To this union three sons were born all of whom survive their father. Mrs. Dinwiddie passed away eleven years ago.

The surviving children are Owen Guy Dinwiddie, living near the old home; H. W. Dinwiddie, who lived at the family home, and James Garfield Dinwiddie of Indianapolis, Ind. Two brothers also survive, Samuel W. Dinwiddie of Litchberry and Thomas Dinwiddie of Waverly. There are also nine grandchildren and a number of other relatives.

James G. Dinwiddie had been at the bedside of his father for a number of days and left Monday afternoon for his home in Indianapolis, as his father's condition was seemingly somewhat improved.

Mr. Dinwiddie was a member of Ebenezer church at the time of his death, having been identified with that organization for a number of years. He was for years engaged in farming and was known as one of the substantial farmers of the Arcadia neighborhood. He retired from active life a number of years ago but retained his physical and mental faculties to a remarkable degree.

The death of Mr. Dinwiddie marks the passing of an upright, stalwart character, a man whose life had made a strong impression for good upon the community in which it was spent.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the family home and burial will be made in Arcadia cemetery.

HARD ROAD TO ENTER CITY ON WIDE CURVE

Right of Way is Secured For Beautiful Drive in West End of City—West College Avenue to Be on Ocean to Ocean Trail.

The right of way has been secured for a beautiful entrance to the city from the west by way of the hard road, which is to be built next summer. It is intended to make West College avenue a part of the Pikes Peak Ocean to Ocean trail, which will enter the city by way of Mound avenue, turning a wide curve to reach West College avenue.

Ground for the curve has been purchased from the O. F. Buffe addition west of Fair street and from the Pinner homestead on West College avenue. The road will curve across the Buffe land at the corner of Fair street, which is a short distance northwest of the entrance to the Maplecrest sanatorium. Then the road will stretch out in a northeasterly direction and turn in a rounding curve across the Pinner land into College avenue.

The connection between College avenue and Fair street will be a short distance west of the main school building at the School for the Deaf.

This change in route has been made by the authorities with the thought of making a more direct approach to the city, and also to avoid the congestion that sometimes occurs on account of the car track on Mound avenue.

Coming over the Mound tourists will obtain a beautiful view of the city, with the white road winding down on its long curve. Rounding this curve they will have a straight run up College avenue on the asphalt pavement, which will eventually lead straight thru the city.

Work on the hard road west of the city will begin this spring and already the right of way for the entrance curve has been secured.

movement work in Morgan county, yesterday received the letter quoted below which was written to a former Jacksonville woman who is now resident in New York City, and who has been a large contributor to the Near East relief work.

The letter was written by Charles B. Vickrey and gives in a personal way some little known facts about the conditions and the work in the Near East. The letter follows:

I have just returned from a visit with your children—boys and girls who would not be living today, had not you and other large-hearted Americans provided funds for their rescue.

I saw a thousand of them, all boys, potential leaders of a New Near East, occupying the Kaiser's Summer Palace at Corfu.

I saw another 1,400 Armenian boys at Corfu—driven out of Asia Minor—temporarily domiciled in a half-ruined abandoned warehouse. Most of them were sleeping on the floors, but some more fortunate occupying bins like shelving against the wall, floor to roof, six deep.

I saw nearly a thousand boys recently arrived from "Pontus in Asia" now sleeping on the floors of the Zappeion Exposition Hall in Athens.

I saw four hundred girls, safe from Turkish oppression, occupying the Royal Palace facing Constitution Square in the heart of Athens.

I saw another 1,300 Armenian girls, salvaged from the orphanages of Constantinople. Some of these girls I recognized as members of a school orchestra that had played for our benefit at a reception the preceding summer, now transplanted, empty-handed, to begin life anew in a strange land.

I saw sixty-seven of these younger girls, all of them suffering from conjunctivitis, crowded into one room 20x20 ft. in size, a cold rain falling outside, with no other place of abode, eating, sleeping, working or playing, night or day.

I saw in another room, scarcely larger, sixty-six infants, most, if not all of them, under three years of age, some of them dying as a result of the weeks of exposure, undernourishment, and hardship endured during their migration in mid-winter from the interior of Asia Minor to their temporary home in Greece.

I saw a portion of the 9,000 Armenian orphans who, by the grace of the Greek Government and people, are temporarily occupying summer hotel buildings, but for whom we absolutely must provide other shelter before the summer begins in April.

Where shall these Armenian orphans go?

I saw three ships in the Piraeus Harbor, crowded beyond capacity with over 10,000 refugees from Anatolia, who could not be disembarked from their long journey and unsanitary environment on account of inadequate quarantine accommodations.

I saw a single ship that had carried 27,000 refugees from Smyrna to safety, transporting the incredible number of 11,500 on one voyage.

I saw in Constantinople Harbor another ship, decks packed with refugees obliged to flee from their homes in Asia Minor but having no place to land except Greece, war-stricken, impoverished, over-populated, the one country on earth that can least afford to extend hospitality to foreign refugees.

I saw Premier Genatas, who, in behalf of the Greek Government, had welcomed to safety on Greek soil tens of thousands of Armenian refugees in addition to a million refugees of his own race, and who said that the Greek nation could never forget the service rendered by American relief workers in saving the lives and evacuating untold thousands of refugees during and following the Smyrna disaster.

I saw in one ramshackle building in Constantinople 300 newly made orphans, whom Near East Relief workers had picked up in the streets and abandoned homes of the one town of Ordu, Asia Minor.

I met in Constantinople our managing directors from the make war increasingly difficult, viewed with them the reports of the 25,000 Armenian orphans who are dependent upon us for their daily food in the Caucasus and of the 11,000 orphans in Syria and Palestine, more than 9,000 of whom are Armenians recently driven out from Harpoot, Caesarea, Marash, Konia (Iconium) and other areas of Paul's early missionary ministry into Syria and Palestine.

In my vision, I saw my own great, rich American, "clothed in purple and fine linen, enjoying sumptuous every day," transcending the dreams of the ancients, surpassing anything that the world has ever known, and which no American can appreciate until he has walked thru the refugee camps in the "Land of the Stalking Death."

And I saw some—yes, many—of these fortunate American citizens expressing true religious and human brotherhood thru giving of their bounty to bind up the wounds of these who have been stricken and robbed by the way-side, buying bread for the hungry clothes for the naked, and medical ministry for the sick.

And I saw in this unselfish ministry of the American philanthropists the best pledge and guarantee of international friendship, brotherhood, and good will to all men, binding the nations together in co-operation that will make war increasingly difficult, because men and women thus united come to love and not to hate one another.

And I saw in the dim, more distant future these infant children, grown to manhood and womanhood, with the impress of American benevolence on their lives, with the lessons of forgiveness, love and unselfish service ingrained in their character.

And I saw these—your boys and girls—potential leaders of a New Near East, forgiving their enemies, serving their fellowmen and passing on to generations yet unborn the gospel of love, good will and service which they have received and are receiving from you and other American philanthropists.

That which battleships and battalions have failed to accomplish the magic power of love, unselfish service and world brotherhood will yet achieve.

TO ERECT TABLET IN HONOR OF DR. HAYDEN

Students Who Were Taught by Dean F. S. Hayden to Place Memorial Tablet in Illinois College Chapel—May Unveil Inscription in June

A memorial tablet for Dr. Frederick Smith Hayden, who was for so many years dean of Illinois college, is to be placed in the chapel, where he stood for college services. The movement to erect the bronze tablet has been started by the students now in college who have taken work under Dr. Hayden, and only students and alumni who sat in his classes will be asked to contribute to the tablet fund.

A letter announcing movement and signed by the presidents of the four college classes was sent out yesterday to alumni and former students who were pupils of Dr. Hayden. The letter reads in part as follows:

"Dr. Hayden had served the college long and faithfully and had won a warm place in the hearts of all the students who had the pleasure of knowing him. The student body has voted to erect a bronze memorial tablet (about 20x30 inches) to the memory of Dr. Hayden, the tablet to be placed in the wall of the chapel immediately back of where for so many years he stood and talked to us. This tablet we hope to have finished and installed in time to unveil it at Commencement next June. The inscription will be as follows:

In Memory of Frederick Smith Hayden, D. D.
Beloved Dean,
Professor of Philosophy and Biblical Literature in Illinois College, 1901-1922.

This tablet is erected as a testimony of affection by the students who have felt the inspiring influence of his teaching and his character.

Dr. Hayden's life and character had a lasting influence on those students who sat under his teaching. This is strictly a memorial erected by them and no others will be allowed to subscribe.

We are living in a rapid age and upon careful survey, by leading specialists, it has been discovered that the cause of our industrial inefficiency is largely due to defective eyesight.

In most of our industrial institutions the work is such that it requires care and scientific exactness, and in order to do the work properly, the eyesight is the most important factor.

POLARINE lubricates perfectly—in cold weather and in hot—451 different makes of passenger cars, trucks and tractors. No matter how extreme the change of temperature—the grade of Polarine indicated in the Chart will remain of the right viscosity. It will spread rapidly. It will form a perfect film between the moving frictional surfaces. It will insure long life to the bearings; complete protection to piston and cylinder.

Changing to Polarine has saved many a motorist hundreds of dollars a year in repair bills. Yet Polarine costs little, if any, more than the lubricant you are using now.

Use Polarine

THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Made in Five Grades

It outstrips any lubricant on the market in maintaining its body through any extreme of temperature. Its elasticity and adhesiveness cause a perfect seal and complete lubrication at all motor speeds and temperatures.

Don't fool yourself into fancied security, by thinking, "Oh, the oil I'm using works all right—why bother to change? It's just as good!" There is no "just as good", or even "second best" lubrication. There is one right lubricant for your car. It is specified in the Chart. When you do not use this lubricant, you fail to get the maximum of economy, efficiency and saving of wear on your engine. Change your motor oil every 500 miles—it is the essence of economy.

Remember the resources—the experience—the scientific experts of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are behind every gallon of Polarine sold. This means maintained quality—at all seasons, in all temperatures—and everywhere throughout 10 Middle Western States.

A TOUGH SITUATION
My wife and four children were dependent on me for their living. My stomach and liver trouble of five years had made me dependent, as no medicine seemed to help me, and I was gradually wasting away. It was a tough situation. My cousin in Columbus wrote me about having taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and advised me to try it.
I am feeling better than for five-teen years. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince you or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—Adv.

IN LATE TRADING

Day's total sales 956,000 shares.

High 1923 103.59; low 96.96.
Twenty railroads averaged $74,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Prices turned upward during the latter part of today's stock market after three days of reaction which had been attributed in many quarters to the higher money and local federal reserve rediscount rates.
A bullish demonstration in American Can., which established a new high record at 101 1/2 and heavy accumulation of the copper shares signalled the turn of the market but it came so late in the session that not all shares which had been heavy early porticipated making the close irregular.

Several factors contributed to the more optimistic sentiment including slightly lower call money rates, higher prices for cotton, copper, zinc and steel products, the resumption of dividends by the Anaconda Copper Mining company and more favorable January railroad earnings statements.

Virtually all the copper stocks sold at new high levels for the year. There were a few conspicuous strong spots in the railroad group notably Atlantic Coast Line, Great Northern preferred and Louisville & Nashville, but several others closed at net losses.
Chesapeake & Ohio dropping more than a point. The first 13 railroad statements to be made public showed combined net income of slightly more than $12, 000,000 for January as compared with $24,800,000 in December and slightly less than $10,000, 000 in January of last year.

Some of the motor accessories stocks developed marked strength Stewart-Warner creating a new peak price of 10 and closing 3 1/2 higher at 95 1/2. Bosch-Magneto closed 2 1/2 points higher at 47 1/2.

Baldwin again was reactionary closing nearly a point lower at 136 after having touched 137 1/2.
United States steel common selling ex-dividend closed at 19 1/2.
Studebaker crossed 120 but fell back later to 119 1/2, up 5.

Call money opened at 5 percent but dropped to 4 1/2 during the four hour closing at that figure.
The time money and commercial paper market were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were firm, demand sterling selling around $4.70 a overnight gain of more than a cent.

Victory 4s gained 2 cents on $100 but the other U. S. government bonds were reactionary the New 4s dropping 24 cents and the others 2 to 4 cents.

What Does It Mean To 'Have Your Block Ground'

—After the reground shaft has been relaid in main bearings the connecting rod bearings are fitted to the crank pins.

—The accuracy of these two bearing operations determine the endurance the motor will have. The connecting rods with pistons assembled must now be lined up.

—This requires a jig tool so constructed that when a mandrel is clamped in the crank pin bearing the piston can be brought up to a face plate exactly at right angles to center of mandrel. This is very important and upon its accuracy depends the durability of the entire engine job.

To make a long story short—

A block grinding job means—A re-manufactured motor. This work cannot be successfully undertaken by amateurs with no machine tool equipment or previous experience.

OLD JACKSONVILLE A SIGMA PI TRI-ENNIAL

(BY ENSLEY MOORE) Member Illinois State Historical Society

The College Rambler of June 20, 1896, had an account of the Sigma Pi Triennial, which was far enough away to be a part of Old Jacksonville. Under the head of Literary Exercises, which used to be held, turn about triennially by the Alumni, Sigma Pi, and Phi Alpha societies. This was said:

"The public literary program of Sigma Pi Triennial was held in the Gymnasium on the night of June 10th. Ensley Moore introduced Valedictorian and President of Sigma Pi, A. B. Fairbank, who presided thru the evening. Prayer was offered by Hon. A. B. Fairbank, '57, and the Sigma Pi Glee club sang, after which the orator, Hon. W. J. Bryan, of the class of '81, of Nebraska, was introduced. As he arose to speak, he was greeted by an enthusiastic, heartfelt applause. The Sigs were glad to welcome again one of their number who has brought such honor to society and college. The subject of his address was "Job and His Boils," taking as a theme, "Our Government and the Ills Which Beset It." It is safe to say that the people of Jacksonville have never listened to a more eloquent speaker or to a speech so full of lofty patriotism as was Mr. Bryan's. We deeply regret that lack of space forbids a synopsis of his brilliant address. When the loud applause, which followed the address, had subsided, John T. Beggs, '85, of New York, was introduced. He met with a hearty reception, as he took the floor, and gave in eloquent words the Triennial poem, sparkling with wit and humor. At the close Mr. Bryan and Mr. Beggs held an informal reception.

The Banquet

The Gymnasium never looked more attractive than it did Wednesday, June 10th., on the night of the Sigma Pi Triennial Banquet. Streamers of the various class colors were looped from a blue center hoop to the walls, and blue, the society color, predominated everywhere. In the early part of the evening an informal reception was held in Sigma Pi Hall. About nine o'clock the party adjourned to the Gymnasium where the ladies of Trinity church had prepared a tempting banquet. The snowy tables furnished ample room for 150 guests. After the supper had been served Ensley Moore called the assembly to order and Mr. M. P. Ayers, '43, was elected toastmaster. He accepted the position in a characteristic speech and entertained the audience several minutes with his ever ready humor and stories. He then announced a song by the Sigma Pi Glee club. The first toast was "The Circuit Rider" by C. R. Morrison, '85. He began with a good story as did all the speakers. Then he told of the circuit riders whom Edward Eggleston had so ably described and paid a high tribute to their memory.

"Amherst Hill and College Hill, a Representative of Both," was assigned to John M. Clapp. He said: "There is a certain spirit of manliness at Amherst which is not found at Williams, Dartmouth or in other Eastern colleges and I was surprised to find the same manliness characterizing Illinois College.

"The Glee Club sang again, then John T. Beggs, '85, was called upon to respond to "Our Poet." The speaker went back to the time when he and the toastmaster were boys and gave some interesting reminiscences.

"The Ladies; how long shall we keep up the fence" was given to W. H. Garrett, '95. He referred to the cartoon in Rig Veda III, price $1, entitled "Co-Education" and wondered if the fence in shape of prejudice against co-education could not be removed as easily as was the Osage Orange hedge. Mr. Garrett then related a marvelous dream of the future of Illinois when Amorology was the chief study taught.

"Hon. W. H. Collins, '51, of Quincy, next spoke on "Sigma Pi." His words were full of wit and sound advice. He also showed the deep reverence and love for the Society that is in the breast of every old Sig. The toastmaster then made an appropriate closing speech and all members joined in singing the Sigma Pi song.

Some Further History

At the time this Rambler report was written, J. E. Clifford was a Phi Alpha, and an enthusiastic Bryan Democrat. Mr. Bryan got his first nomination for the Presidency a few days later. Clifford, presumably wrote this Rambler report.

The O. J., man as chairman of the Re-Union Committee, called with a carriage, at the Dunlap House, to take Mr. Beggs up to the college. Enroute, they stopped at Dr. H. Jones' to get Mr. Bryan.

Before getting there the writer said to Beggs, "I want you to take notice of Bryan. I believe the Democrats are going to nominate him for President." This came about, as is well known.

The O. J., man was then Secretary of the Old Settlers' Association, which met that summer at Virginia, Cass county.

When the writer got to the Fair Grounds, up there, he saw "Tim" Beggs approaching quite energetically, and guessed the reason, Beggs enthusiastically grasped the writer's hand, and said:

"Are you a prophet, or the son of a prophet?"

Of course it was an easy guess.

January Was Another 100,000 Month for Ford Car Sales

The total cars sold during January was 100,118 according to advices just received from the Ford Motor Company at Detroit, making the tenth consecutive month in which sales have run over the 100,000 mark.

And while this means that in the last ten months more than one million Ford cars have been sold, the really remarkable feature is that four of these months were fall and winter months during which the average expectation of sales is only about sixty per cent of the spring and summer business.

But since April last, the first month when sales topped the 100,000 line, there has been no slackening and every month since has brought in sales totalling more than 100,000, something unprecedented in the automobile world.

Several things have contributed to this unusual sales record, principal of which is the fact that since last October Ford prices have been at the lowest level ever reached in the history of the company. Organized sales drives have been most effectively carried on, resulting in an awakening of the motoring public to the fact that the Ford is as dependable and practical in winter as it is in summer.

Another noticeable factor is that a man of moderate means, ambitious to own an automobile and who a few months ago looked to much higher priced cars to satisfy his desire, is rapidly convincing himself that he can better afford a Ford car which calls for less investment, less upkeep expense and has the greatest service facilities. New improvements and refinements in all Ford cars, both open and enclosed models, have contributed much in this respect.

Production at the Ford plant for 1922 will be established at 5000 cars and trucks a day, and this output will be reached about April 1st. With the first month in the year starting off with sales in excess of 100,000, indications are that absorption is going to run close to this high production schedule.
